Bare-Root One Year Birthday!

Greetings and welcome from everyone at Arrowhead Ornamentals. Though we haven't actually slowed down long enough to celebrate I'm very happy with our first year in the Bare-Root business and am optimistic for the future!

In May 2008 Arrowhead Ornamentals acquired the property and facilities of A. McGill and Son Nursery in Hubbard, Oregon. I am extremely excited about the opportunity to continue to grow and provide the quality bare root shrubs and shade trees that the McGill family has produced for three generations. Needless to say, the economy threw some interesting challenges at us and, like everybody, we've had to adjust the business model on the fly. Our goals are to expand and develop a strong, fundamentally sound nursery for the long term focusing on quality trees, excellent customer service, and smart decision making. With this in mind I'm very happy with our progress. Especially with the growing results we're seeing in the field! The one and two year old material is as good as any I've seen in the marketplace. And I'm thrilled with how well the newly planted stock is coming along.

As the managing partner of our family nursery, I look forward to continue building a relationship with you and your company through the end of this year and early 2010. Please don't hesitate to visit anytime if you're in the area.
